Course Description:

Expand your professional Knowledge and apply new skills to every patient in your care. Join us for this interactive course where you will understand how the scientific evidence of biofilm impacts our treatment options and choices in our quest to provide optimal care for each of our individual patients. Discover how traditional treatments may be damaging restorations and how you can conservatively remove biofilm without causing harm. We will explore the research on oral and dental biofilms which has significantly improved our understanding of Pathophysiology of periodontal disease and has led to new paradigms for therapeutic procedures. Realize you can scale less and remove MORE biofilm. Come see what the future of dental appointments looks like, get prepared for the expectations in dental hygiene and uphold your lifelong professional development.

ABOUT THE SPEAKER:

TAMI WANLESS RDH, MED.

Tami Wanless is the Professional Education Manager at Hu-Friedy Mfg. Co. LLC. She holds a master's degree in Adult Education from Northern Illinois University, as well as a bachelor degree in Health Science and an associate degree in Dental Hygiene from William Rainey Harper college.

Before teaming-up with Hu-Friedy as a Key Opinion Leader in 2013, Tami spent nearly 25 years teaching at three of Illinois' prestigious dental hygiene programs. She has nearly thirty years of experience in clinical dental hygiene practice, and has led numerous dental hygiene missions worldwide, providing care to underserved areas. She continues to take time each month to work in private practice in the Chicagoland area.

Tami authors and presents on a multitude of dental hygiene related topics, with an emphasis on hands-on instrument sharpening and clinical techniques. She is committed to supporting dental professionals with research and experience. When not educating, sharpening, scaling or staying active in professional organizations, you might find Tami planning the next dental mission trip.
